In August, the City of Castle Pines began working with Aguilar Public Relations to provide public relations and communications services for the city.

“We’re excited to have Aguilar Public Relations join the City of Castle Pines,” said Mayor Jeffrey Huff. “We will be working with an impressive team with vast experience in both traditional public relations and social media. With a majority of the team residing in Castle Pines, they have a deep understanding of our city’s history and issues. Their enthusiasm for public service and community engagement made them our top candidate.”

As the public relations and communications firm for the city, Aguilar Public Relations will be responsible for managing all community communications, public information, and media relations. A key role will be keeping the community informed on important city programs and services, events, and developments.

Established in the Castle Pines community in January 2005, Aguilar Public Relations has more than twenty years of experience in creating and executing strategic public relations and communications plans to reach key audiences and building brand presence.

“We are honored to have the opportunity to partner and serve the City of Castle Pines,” said Timi Aguilar, president of Aguilar Public Relations. “We look forward to working with the mayor, city council, and city staff to expand the brand awareness and communications of the wonderful community where we live and work.”
